

Subject: You paid how much?

Message:

Hi <Name>

Jane Hammer from Deals Daily here. I found a great place for fruits and vegetables last week.

I was talking to a co-worker the other day and the topic turned, as it usually does these days, to money.

My co-worker said how she got such a bargain at the grocery store. Green beans on sale and some grapefruit for $7.

Wow, you call that a sale?! On my last visit to Farmer's Market, I got over a pound of green beans and a bag of 7 grapefruit for 2 dollars and 56 cents!

So, who would you say got the better deal?

You know, since I've been shopping at Farmer's Market my family has been eating much healthier.

The kids actually eat their vegetables and ask for fruit for snacks.

Farmer's Market is pretty close to you, too. Why don't you stop by one day on your way home from work? They're open till 7 every day of the week.

Your family will thank you. And so will your checkbook.

PS Hey, check out their website FarmersMarket.com to get an idea of all the fruits and vegetables available to you.